

do not weaken the do not call laws to please the tele-marketers, if anything make them stricter, I pay the phone bill, not the tele-marketers, they're wasting my time to listen to their proposals. Make them have their phone numbers visible on the caller ID's, not come up as "unavailable". To stop these computer generated messages's that use up space on answering devises. To discontinue calling to get an answer and hanging up just to get an idea of the best time to call for a sales pitch. Let them send me junk mail, the post office can use the business, and they have to pay the postage, and when I send back the pre-paid envelope the post office gets revenue twice...
